1. On 24 May 1951, a resident from Dangarten said that an airfield for jet fighters was to be constructed at Puetnitz airfield and that some settlers and farmers had to evacuate their houses and would have to abandon their fields in the near future.
2. During a discussion in late May 1951, two leading employees of the Stralsund Volkswerft (Nationalized Shipyard) said that the former Puetnitz airfield was to be reconstructed. For this purpose, the apprentice workshop of the Boddenwerft, previously stationed at the field, had to be evacuated and turned over to the Stralsund Volkswerft. By order of the SED Party School leader, the functionaries had to inform the laborers of the Boddenwerft that the airfield was to be reconstructed for peaceful aviation purposes. *
